

Continue

```
In [13]: # Program for demonstrating need of continue statement

s = "PYTHON"

print("By using for loop")

for ch in s:
    print("\t{}".format(ch))

else:
    print("I am from else part of for loop")

print("-----")

Today my requirement is to display PYTHON without using indexing and slicing
print("By using for loop")

s = "PYTHON"

for ch in s:
    if ch == "T":
        print("Hi")
        print("Hello")
        print("Welcome") continue # must be last print("{} ".format(ch), end="")

else:
    print()
    print("I am from else part of for loop")

print("-----")
```

```
By using for loop
P
Y
T
H
O N
I am from else part of for loop
-----
By using for loop
PYHi
Hello
Welcome
HON
I am from else part of for loop
-----
```

```
In [1]: # 14:18
Program for demonistation of continue statement need to continue strat

s = "PYTHON"
i = 0

while(i < len(s)):
    if(s[i] == "T"):
        i = i + 1
        continue

    print("{} ".format(s[i]), end="") i = i + 1

else:
    print("\nI am from else part of while loop")

print("-----")
```

```
PYHON
I am from else part of while loop
-----
```

```
In [3]: #21:08
Program for demonstrating need of continue statement

s = "PYTHON"

Display PYHN without using indexing and slicing
print("By using for loop")

for ch in s:
    if ch == "T" or ch == "O":
        continue
    print(ch, end="")

else:
    print()
    print("I am from else part of for loop")

print("-----")
```

```
By using for loop
PYHN
I am from else part of for loop
-----
```

```
In [13]: # Program for demonstrating need of continue statement

s = "PYTHON"

Today my requirement is to display PYHN
without using indexing and slicing

print("By using for loop")
```

```

for ch in s:
    if (ch == "T") or (ch == "O"):
        continue
    print("{} ".format(ch), end="")

else:
    print()
    print("I am from else part of for loop")

print("-----")

```

By using for loop

PYHN

I am from else part of for loop

In [15]: # Program for demonstrating need of continue statement

```

s = "PYTHON"

Today my requirement is to display PYHN
without using indexing and slicing

print("By using for loop")

for ch in s:
    if ch in ["T", "O"]:
        continue

    print("{} ".format(ch), end="")

else:
    print()
    print("I am from else part of for loop")

print("-----")

```

By using for loop

PYHN

I am from else part of for loop

Pass

In [19]: # Program for demonstrating need of continue statement with pass

```

s = "PYTHON"

Today my requirement is to display PYHN
without using indexing and slicing

print("By using for loop")

for ch in s:
    if ch in ["T", "O"]:

```

```

        pass
    else:
        print("{} ".format(ch), end="")

else:
    print()
    print("I am from else part of for loop")

print("-----")

```

By using for loop

PYHN

I am from else part of for loop

In [2]: # Program for accepting values from keyboard and displaying them

```

n = int(input("Enter how many values you have: "))

if n <= 0:
    print("{} is an invalid input".format(n))
else:
    lst = []    # Creating an empty list for adding values

    for i in range(1, n + 1):
        val = float(input("Enter {} value: ".format(i))) lst.append(val)

    print("List of values = {}".format(lst))

```

List of values = [10.0, 20.0, 30.0]

In [5]: # Program for accepting values from keyboard and display

```

print("Enter numbers and press ! to stop")

lst = []

while True:
    value = input("Enter value: ")

    if value == "!":
        break

    if value.strip() == "":
        print("Blank or space input is not allowed") continue

    try:
        value = float(value)
        lst.append(value)
    except ValueError:
        print("Invalid input. Please enter a number or ! to stop") print("List of Values = {}".format(lst))

```

Enter numbers and press ! to stop
List of Values = [10.0, 20.0, 30.0]

In [7]: # Program for accepting values from keyboard and display

```
print("Enter numbers and press ! to stop")

lst = []

while True:
    value = input("Enter value: ")

    if value == "!":
        break

    if value.isspace() or value == "":
        print("Spaces are not allowed") continue

    try:
        lst.append(float(value))
    except ValueError:
        print("Invalid input")

print("List of Values = {}".format(lst))
```

Enter numbers and press ! to stop
List of Values = [12.0, 34.0, -34.56, 6.7, 89.0]

In [9]: # Program for accepting values from keyboard and display

```
print("Enter number of values and press ! to stop")

lst = []

while True:
    value = input("Enter value: ")

    if value == "!":
        break

    if value.strip() == "":
        print("Empty or space value is not allowed") continue

    try:
        lst.append(float(value))
    except ValueError:
        print("Invalid input. Enter only numbers or ! to stop") print("List of Values = {}".format(lst))

```

Enter number of values and press ! to stop
List of Values = [10.0, 20.0, 30.0, 40.0]

In [15]: # Program for accepting list of numerical values and obtain even values

```
n = int(input("Enter how many number of values you have: "))

if n <= 0:
    print("{} is invalid input".format(n))
else:
    lst = []

    for i in range(1, n + 1):
        val = int(input("Enter {} value: ".format(i))) lst.append(val)
    else:
        print("List of Values = {}".format(lst))

count = 0

print("Even values are:")

for val in lst:
    if val % 2 != 0:
        continue

    print(val)
    count = count + 1
else:
    print("Number of Even Values = {}".format(count))
```

List of Values = [10, 20, 30, 40]

Even values are:

10

20

30

40

Number of Even Values = 4

In []: